

POSITION DEFINED
BY GREAT BRITAIN

A. J. BALFOUR DISCLOSES THE GOVERNMENT'S POLICY.

Must Have Trade Freedom—Only Object Sought For Is a Fair Field For All and No Special Favors—Says Britain Has Conquered Barbarism of the World.

London, Jan. 11.—Arthur J. Balfour, in the course of a speech at Manchester Monday night, gave some general indications of the British policy in China, which amply confirmed previous statements in these dispatches.

The burden of his declarations was that the British policy in China was to obtain freedom of trade, not only for Great Britain but for all other nations as well. Great Britain simply asked a fair field and no special favors.

Inasmuch as the British interest in the external trade of China was 80 per cent of the world's trade there, Great Britain had a special claim to see that China's policy was not directed toward the discouragement of foreign trade.

Mr. Balfour declared that he was glad to think that Great Britain, by the deepest traditions of her commercial policy, was excluded from using any trading privileges she might obtain as a weapon for excluding her rivals. When she asked for freedom of trade she did not mean freedom for Great Britain alone, but for all the world alike. This remark elicited cheers from the audience.

The British government would do its best to see that British trade was not injured in any way. In such an effort it would not be struggling for Great Britain only, but for the world at large as well. He regarded without fear or dislike the idea of Russia having a commercial outlet below the line of ice. He could not conceive why Great Britain should object to Russian commerce going wherever it chose, provided that British commerce was not excluded from going there too.

He asserted that Great Britain was alone among the nations of the world, in that when she conquered or rescued any country from barbarism, she conquered it for the world and not for herself alone. So in China, she desired that all the world should enjoy the privilege of commerce. If this policy were effected trade would flourish, the interchange of wealth grow apace, and all influences which make for better understandings between nations and for perpetual peace would be the result.

Mr. Balfour said the concert of Europe had not added to its reputation by its recent treatment of Crete. It would be better to have a third-rate governor than none at all. It was strange the concert could not find one either in Europe or America. He also eulogized the bravery displayed by the British troops in the Indian campaign.

NON-PARTISAN W. C. T. U.

Annual Convention of Temperance Workers at Columbus, Ohio.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 11.—As last year in Washington, the Nonpartisan W. C. T. U. holds its convention in immediate precedence of that of the American Anti-Saloon league. Several of its members are officers in both bodies and their methods of work are such as to bring them in perfect sympathy.

The venerable Annie Wittenmeyer is the efficient president of the Nonpartisan W. C. T. U., just as she was of the older W. C. T. U. in its early years. Mrs. Ellen J. Phinney of Cleveland, Ohio, is the corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Howard M. Ingham of Jefferson, Ohio, the treasurer. All of these officers had most encouraging reports at the opening session—debts all paid and more money in the treasury for the work of 1898 than at the opening of any preceding year. One of the plans for new work is an organization to be known as the "Twentieth Century School League."

ASSASSIN USED AN AX.

Massachusetts Farmer, His Wife and Adopted Child Murdered.

Worcester, Mass., Jan. 11.—Francis D. Newton, a prosperous farmer of Brookfield, his wife, Sarah, and their 10-year-old adopted daughter, Ethel, were found murdered in their beds Monday. The crime was discovered by neighbors, whose curiosity was aroused by the howling of the unfed cattle. The three had been killed with an axe. A hired man, who had been employed by Newton, is missing and the authorities are making a search for him. He was known only by the name of Paul. He was last seen Friday night just before midnight more than a mile from the Newton house, going in the direction of Brookfield.

Newton was 45 years of age and his wife was three years younger.

Wants Heavy Damages.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Messrs. Dittenhofer, Lauterbach and Limburger, counsel for Dr. Cornelius Herz, on Monday appeared before Commissioner Penfield at the state department and presented a claim for indemnity in the sum of $5,000,000 against the French government for an alleged illegal attempt to persecute Dr. Herz.

English Painter Dead.

London, Jan. 11.—Henry Stacey Marks, the painter and honorary academician, is dead. His forte was genre and quaint mediaevalism. He was born in London Sept. 13, 1829.

NEW BILL IS FRAMED.

Another Revenue Plan Ready for Legislators to Consider.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 11.—Enough members of the legislature to make a committee quorum could scarcely be gathered in Springfield Monday night. It seems to be taken for granted that not much business will be done until the police investigating committee finishes its work in Chicago. There will be the usual sessions in both houses, however, provided the point of "no quorum" is not raised. Debates on revenue reform will be had, and the primary election bill will come up in the senate on second reading and be advanced.

The subcommittee on revenue has a new bill ready for submission to the full committee if it can be got together. The only material change, as applied to the country, is retention of the township assessors in counties with less than 200,000 population, with the county treasurer made supervisor of assessments—that is, for counties having township organizations—and in the board of review, which is to be composed of the county clerk, the president of the county board, and one citizen, to be named by the county judge. In the nineteen counties having no township organizations the three county commissioners are to act as a board of review. The state board of equalization in taxing corporations is given the power of taxing franchises.

IS STILL UNBURIED.

San Francisco Crematories Refuse to Receive Theodore Durrant's Body.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 10.—The body of Theodore Durrant is still unburied. The Odd Fellows' crematory has made its refusal to receive the body emphatic. The Los Angeles institution also has been appealed to in vain. Cypress Lawn has not made its refusal so absolute as the others and the Durrants have a lingering hope that possibly their son's request may yet be carried out there. Failing in that they will probably bury the body at sea. Something must be done before Wednesday or the law will interfere to force the disposal of the remains. Mr. Durrant talks of a lawsuit against the crematories which have declined to receive the remains.

Turkey Bluffing Uncle Sam.

Washington, Jan. 11.—United States Minister Angell at Constantinople has reported to the state department that he has not as yet succeeded in securing an assent from the Turkish government to his demand for the payment of an indemnity for the American mission property destroyed during the Armenian outbreak, and has sought instructions from the department that will enable him to make even stronger representations to the Turkish government than have been made by himself or Mr. Terrell, his predecessor.

Gomez Whips the Spaniards.

Havana, Jan. 8, via Tampa, Fla., Jan. 11.—General Gomez with 300 cavalry and 800 infantry has had a sharp engagement with the Spanish column, under General Ruiz, near Sancti Spiritus. The official Spanish report says their loss was only twenty-one wounded and twelve Cubans were killed and three captured. As a matter of fact General Gomez routed the Spaniards by a brilliant cavalry charge, in which full 150 of the Spanish column were killed or wounded.

Spain's Troops Fade Away.

Havana, Jan. 11.—Word comes from Moron, on the central trocha, that of the 12,000 men Weyler left upon the line but 2,000 are now available for garrison and picket duty. The hospitals of Moron, Ciego de Avila, San Fernando, and other points along the trocha are filled with living skeletons, the victims of paludal fevers, and the few men able to do duty are having their numbers rapidly decimated by poor food. Hundreds of cases of smallpox are also reported.

Jury Chosen to Try Draper.

Jacksonville, Ill., Jan. 11.—Mr. Draper, the man indicted for the murder of Charles L. Hastings, now knows who will try his case. Havana, Jan. 11.—The government has extended for two months the period during which cattle may be imported into Cuba from the United States free of duty.

SECRET SESSIONS
ARE NOT FAVORED

SENATOR MASON URGES THAT IT BE ABOLISHED.

His Colleagues Dissent—Discussions Behind Closed Doors Will Continue Civil Service Law Gets Some Hard Raps in the House—McKinley Still For Bimetallism.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Senator Mason in a speech in the senate Monday attacked the executive session. The senate went into executive session almost immediately upon assembling for the purpose of discussing the Hawaiian annexation treaty. Mr. Mason demanded that the doors be thrown open and the world, or as much of it as desired to take advantage of the opportunity, be allowed to hear what was going on. Mr. Mason paid a tribute to the executive session. He said it was a relic of war times; that it had caused the American people to look upon the senate with suspicion; that the public trembled every time the senate went into executive session and ended by again demanding that the doors be thrown open.

Senator Hoar defended the secret session. He said it was an ancient custom and a dignified one. Mr. Mason interjected some more remarks, and finally Senator Morrill took sides with the Illinois man. He also thought the discussion should be public, but the rest of the senators refused to establish a precedent which might serve to deprive them of one of their favorite customs, so the discussion continued behind locked doors. It was nearly 4 o'clock in the evening when the doors were finally swung open.

INTERVIEWS MCKINLEY.

Senator Chandler Talks Bimetallism with the President.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Senator Chandler had a conference with President McKinley Monday upon the subject of bimetallism, and he said after the close of the interview:

"The president stands firm in favor of international bimetallism as promoted by the St. Louis platform. He considers the negotiations with the European powers only temporarily suspended on account of the peculiar condition of affairs in India, and the president's intention is to again send his envoys to Europe as soon as the conditions are favorable for continuing negotiations." Senator Chandler added the opinion that the president is as earnestly in favor of bimetallism—"the use of both metals as standard money"—as the senator himself.

Death Penalty for Train Robbers.

Washington, Jan. 11.—A law imposing the death penalty, with the alternative of a long term imprisonment, for train wrecking, is being strongly urged for passage by the present congress. The strong arm of the federal authority, which assumes to protect interstate commerce, is invoked to safeguard the lives and property of the traveling public. The following record of hold-ups during recent years tells its own story. Record of train robberies in the United States numbers as follows: In 1890, 12; 1891, 16; 1892, 16; 1893, 33; 1894, 34; 1895, 49; 1896, 28; 1897, 30. The total number of trains held up in eight years is 218; total number of people killed, 78; total number of people injured (shot), 67. Congressman Joel C. Hubbard of Missouri is the author of a bill on this subject now pending.

In the House.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The opponents of the civil-service law had much the better of the debate in the house Monday, so far as the number of those engaging in it were concerned. Nine of the clever speakers were of the opposition. Mr. Moody, who has charge of the bill, gave notice that he would test the sense of the house to-day on a motion to close debate. The opposition immediately sent word to all in their ranks to be on hand, and they say they will have no difficulty in defeating the motion. Those who participated in the debate were: In opposition to the law, Messrs. Cooney (dem., Mo.), Door (rep., W. Va.), Cox (dem., Tenn.), Little (dem., Ark.), Brumm (rep., Pa.), Cowherd (dem., Mo.), Sulloway (rep., N. H.), Low (rep., N. Y.), and in defense of the law, Messrs. McCall (rep., Mass.) and Parker (rep., N. J.).

PRESIDENT'S PLANS
MET WITH FAVOR

FINANCIAL : RECOMMENDATIONS TO BE REPORTED.

Majority of the Committees Are For Such Action and Do Not Want to Wait For Action on Other Measures—Secretary Alger Is Now Better.

Washington, Jan. 11.—It has developed as a result of careful inquiry among members of the house committee on banking and currency that a majority was counted on to report without delay on the three financial propositions recommended by the President in his last message. These inquiries indicate that at least nine of the seventeen members of the committee will vote to favorably report the President's recommendations without waiting for action on the Gage bill, or monetary conference bill, or any other comprehensive measure.

Secretary Alger Better.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Alarming stories sent throughout the west relative to the condition of Secretary Alger have caused the issue of a formal statement from Assistant Secretary Meikeljohn after consultation with Captain Woods, the army surgeon, who has been attending the secretary during his illness, which has now lasted about a month. It is said that the fever has completely disappeared and that the secretary is stronger. He still remains in bed by direction of Dr. Woods, but the physician says that by the end of this week or early next week Secretary Alger will be able to leave Washington for some point not yet selected, probably on the seashore, to convalesce.

Ida Johnson Sentenced.

Galesburg, Ill., Jan. 11.—Judge Glenn on Monday denied the motion for a new trial in the case of Ida Johnson, convicted of the murder of her husband, C. F. Johnson, and sentenced her to the Joliet penitentiary under the indeterminate sentence law. J. A. McKenzie, attorney for Mrs. Johnson, asked for a stay of judgment in order that he might file a bill of exceptions preparatory to taking the case to the Supreme court. He was granted until Jan. 31.

The suspension will remain operative for a year.

READY TO GREET SHAW.

Convening of the Iowa General Assembly—Retrenchment the Cry.

Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 11.—The XXVIIIth general assembly convened Monday. W. E. Hauger of Blackhawk county called the house to order, and Senator A. B. Funk opened the senate session. Organization was effected according to the selections made by the Republican caucuses of last week. J. H. Funk of Hardin county being selected for speaker and J. D. Rowen for chief clerk of the house, and George A. Newman of Cedar Falls for secretary of the senate.

Nothing was accomplished in either house except the appointment of inauguration committees.

Late at night the joint committee on the inauguration completed plans for the day. The ceremonies will be at 2:30 o'clock Thursday. The national guard companies and the Lincoln Huzzards of Des Moines will form an escort for Gov. Shaw, the legislative committee and the inaugural party from the Savery hotel to the state-house. The exercises will be held in the rotunda of the state house, and the public will be admitted only by ticket. The Rev. J. T. Crippen of Marion will officiate as chaplain, and the oath will be administered by Chief Justice H. E. Deemer. Gov. Shaw's inaugural address will be brief.

Speaker Funk in taking the chair Monday made a speech, in which he said that the first duty of the assembly was to see that the state debt was paid off. The deficit is now about $500,000. The new speaker insisted that appropriations should be cut to the bone in order to pay the debt.

A call has been issued for the holding of a Republican joint caucus Wednesday night for the election of wardens of the state penitentiaries and for state printer and binder.

DECLARE FOR A STRIKE.

New Bedford Mule Spinners Vote Almost Unanimously to Quit.

New Bedford, Mass., Jan. 11.—The mule spinners' unions held a secret meeting Monday night, with 95 per cent of the full strength present.

The textile situation was calmly and thoroughly discussed, and a formal vote to strike was taken. It is said the vote recorded was 398 to 4, but the officials withheld the facts, having promised to do so until after the state arbitration commissioners arrive.

The state commission was summoned by Mayor Ashley and the board of trade, and an effort will be made to compromise matters and avoid a strike. There are no mill agents or operatives who have any faith in the attempt to secure arbitration.

Singler's Creditors Warned.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Charles G. Dawes, comptroller of the currency, has issued a circular addressed to the creditors of the Chestnut Street National of Philadelphia urging them to accept President William M. Singler's proposition for their relief. It seems 20 per cent of the creditors have withheld their acceptance of the proposition, probably in the hope that the directors would finally satisfy their claims in full. This, however, is impossible. If there were only some 4 or 5 per cent standing out some of the other creditors might buy up their claims, so as to let the Singler proposition go through, but the bank officers cannot do anything of the kind.

Attack New Insurance Laws.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 11.—The foreign fire insurance companies doing business in this state have determined to test the constitutionality of the two acts passed by the last legislature declaring insurance compacts to be illegal. Washington, Jan. 11.—In the United States supreme court Justice Harlan handed down the opinion of the court in the case of A. P. S. Stewart against K. K. M. A. HANNA

The Senator Will Surely Succeed Himself.

THE FIRST BALLOT WAS A DECISIVE ONE.

His Election is Now Assured On First Joint Vote.

THE DEMOCRATS VOTE FOR MAYOR M'KISSON.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 11.—Senator Marcus Hanna is on top.

The first vote was taken at 2 o'clock

MARK HANNA.

this afternoon. The senate voted as follows:

M. A. Hanna, republican, seventeen.
McKisson, fusion, nineteen.
The house voted as follows:
Hanna, fifty-six.
McKisson, forty-nine.
Warner, one.
Lentz, one.
Wiley, one.
The democrats voted for Mayor McKisson.

This vote insures Mr. Hanna's election on the joint ballot.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 11.—Not until the vote is taken in the two houses of the legislature will there be any certainty as to the election or defeat of Mr. Hanna, and perhaps not even then. It is the belief that there will not be an election today, and that a deadlock will follow which may be continued indefinitely.

Mr. Hanna claims 73 votes—enough to elect. Mr. Kurtz, or rather the opposition, claims 73 votes—enough to defeat.

Sunday night the Democratic steering committee demanded of Mr. Kurtz that he furnish at least eight affidavits from Republican members that they would stand with the sixty-five Democratic members in voting against Hanna. The Democratic steering committee has reported that they were satisfied. Representative Gayman, chairman of the house Democratic steering committee, went so far as to say Hanna's defeat was assured.

It has been agreed by a conference committee that the balloting in the two houses will not begin until 2 p. m. and there may be several changes in that time. There is a feeling among many of those opposing Hanna that if he is not defeated on the first ballot or rather by the separate ballots that he will not be defeated at all. These anti-Hanna workers say they had a majority of five against Hanna when they exposed their strength in organizing the legislature last Monday and if they come down to a majority of only one against Hanna to-day that the coalition may not hold together for another day.

It is said on good authority that Gov. Bushnell will not be a candidate for senator. One of the names most prominently mentioned is that of Representative John P. Jones, who represents Stark county, the home of President McKinley. Mr. Jones is a Republican and prominent in the miners' union. He is for free silver and is advocated as the labor candidate against the capitalist.

The proceeds will be devoted to a charitable object, and all are urged to attend. The following rules and regulations will give an idea of the social and its unique nature: 1. Every woman who attends must wear a calico dress and apron. 2. No gentleman with a boiled shirt and dude collar is allowed to attend unless he pays a fine of two cents. Fines for women: Approaching without an apron, one cent; wearing earrings, one cent; finger ring, one cent; new dress, two cents; breastpin, one cent; store teeth, two cents for both men and women; and any other article of dress or jewelry that is not necessary, will be subject to fine. Fines for men: For wearing blackened boots or shoes, one cent; carrying a car in pocket, one cent; button hole bouquet, two cents; creased trousers, two cents; spooning, making sheep's eyes and acting up, two cents each; also various other fines. All fines collected by competent judges.

ICE HAULING BEE AT PORTER

Eagle Creamery's House Filled By the Farmers—Other News.

Porter, Jan. 11.—The farmers filled Eagle creamery ice house last Thursday. The manager, George D. Mansfield spent the day here and treated the boys to a box of Edgerton's best ten cent cigars. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Conway rejoice over the arrival of another baby at their home. Mrs. Conway has been very low but is now reported out of danger. But little is being done with tobacco these days. Growers are delaying sorting hoping to dispose of it in the bundle. The last week was the finest ever known in years in January. Ice on Gibb's Lake measures 12 inches in thickness despite the fine weather. A very pleasant dancing party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Dooley on Tuesday evening. A large crowd was present and all were most royally entertained. Porter Glee club's dance in Fulton on last Friday evening was a decided success. The next will be given on Friday, Jan. 21. Everyone cordially invited.

FOOTVILLE PARENTS MOURN

Infant Child's Life Was Not of Long Duration.

Footville, Jan. 11.—On the 29th day of July, 1897, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Howe was gladdened by the advent of a baby girl, but their joy was of short duration for on Friday morning, January 7th, the death angel entered their home and the sweet bud which gave promise of developing into a beautiful flower was transplanted into another clime there to bloom in the garden of our Savior forever. It was a sad day to the bereaved parents when the little form they loved so well was laid to rest in the silent grave but they mourn not as those without hope for they know that little "Bethel" is waiting for them in that beautiful home above and that she is forever free from sorrow and pain. The afflicted parents have the sympathy of the entire community in the hour of their bereavement. Funeral services were held at the Disciple church on Sunday afternoon. The remains were taken to the cemetery at Orfordville for interment there to Remarks.

My annual report for 1897 will show the number of arrests, the majority of which are divided among the different criminal charges. There is no way for me to tell whether there is an increase or decrease over the number of arrests made in 1896, as my predecessor in office made no report for that year. The number of tramps and vagrants have decreased over the number of last year. The present police force consists of a chief and two patrolmen. I dare say we have the best regulated and most orderly city, for one of its size, in the United States. We, as policemen, are entrusted, to a great degree, with the safety of the public, their homes, and to see that they are protected in all their lawful rights, regardless of race or religion. I honestly believe that the police of this city feel this the most important part of their duty. To be sure, we cannot always do all that is expected of us, or all we should be pleased to do. We can not expect to please everybody, no matter how efficiently we may perform our duty. It is quite natural for some people to find fault and be dissatisfied with something or somebody all their life. In my opinion, the first duty of an efficient policeman is to prevent crime; second, to detect offenders when crime is committed and bring them before the proper tribunal. I extend my thanks to the Honorable Mayor Thoroughgood and the members of the city council and also the members of the police force for the able assistance they have given me during my term of office.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN W. HOGAN,
Chief of Police.

DIXEY COMES ON THURSDAY

The Actor-Magician to Play in Magic This Time.

Illusions that bewilder and mystify, witty stories that cause roars of laughter, imitations and burlesques that set the risibles going at a lively pace and cure the most chronic form of indigestion, stage settings and furniture so beautiful and gorgeous that one seems to be looking at a lively scene in fairyland. That is what Henry E. Dixey is presenting to his audience this season in his unique entertainment comprising a marvelous spectacular production of magic, mirth, mystery, and mimicry. This versatile entertainer is presenting an absolutely new form of amusement. It is magic, but magic robbed off all its sombre hues and presented in a light graceful and mirthful manner that mystifies and yet keeps the audience roaring with laughter. NEW MATERIALS.

The Fabrics Most Favored For Fashionable Gowns and Wraps.

There are so many charming novelties in silk and velvet fabrics this season that it is difficult to make a choice among them. Good taste prevails in coloring and designs, so that whatever is selected is reasonably sure to be pleasing and successful when made up into garments.

CLOTH COSTUME.

Ribbed, shaded, striped, speckled, plaid, mirror and shirred velvets are all employed for bodices, skirts, wraps, trimming and millinery. Silks are so rich and varied in design and coloring as to require but little trimming, although much can be used if it is desired. Plaid grosgrain silk combined with shirred velvet is a novel and fashionable union.

Bayadere or horizontal stripes are often seen and are becoming to a slender figure, although they are to be avoided by persons inclined to embonpoint.

Surah, which is always soft and agreeable, is again fashionable as well, not for whole gowns, but for chemisettes, guimpes and separate bodices.

A combination of emerald green velvet and the finest and softest Persian lamb is supremely "chic" and supremely expensive. Capes and even whole costumes are thus composed, but the effect is not particularly striking, and its success is mainly due to the fact that it is costly and therefore not common.

Silk and velvet are the materials par excellence for formal costumes, reception gowns and toilets for wedding guests, but when they cannot be afforded cloth and various pretty woolen fabrics are employed and compose most satisfactory gowns, the trimming of fur, velvet or fine passementerie giving them an effect of elegance.

The picture shows a costume of myrtle green cloth having a new skirt so cut that at each side of the tablier is a group of three plaits, each plait secured at the top by a long motif of embroidered black velvet. The bodice is trimmed with velvet motifs to match and has revers and valois collar of sable, the plastron being of white satin embroidered with gold. The soft belt is of black velvet, and the wrists of the close sleeves are decorated with velvet motifs.

THE TOILET.

Hints Here and There—New Ways of Arranging the Hair.

A red nose is one of the most annoying of the minor trials of a woman's life. When the redness is caused by cold and is only temporary, it requires no treatment, but when it is due to some condition of the skin it may sometimes be reduced by bathing the nose three or four times daily with a mixture of borax, rosewater and orange flower water. The proportions are equal weight of rosewater and orange flower water and one-eighth the weight of borax. It is rather early to begin to talk about putting away winter clothes for the summer, but it is always well to give good advice in ample time for it to be followed. Before coats, wraps and heavy gowns are packed away they should be thoroughly shaken, beaten and aired, as moths are much less liable to attack them if they are thus treated. It is also best to put them in repair, so that they can be worn at once if sudden necessity arises.

Bits of broche, light silk, cord and galloon should always be saved, as there are many pretty little fancy articles for which they may be utilized. Photograph frames and glove and handkerchief boxes in especial are easily made and are always useful and acceptable.

Evening capes for wear over thin ball gowns must be light and at the same time very warm. For young girls fine elder down wool trimmed with swan's down is pretty and simple, but for older women something more dignified is required—cloth or broche silk. The favorite is wadded and quilted silk, a revival of old time fashion. A very high collar, protecting the neck and back of the head, is always worn.

The picture shows two coiffures. The first, rather startling, is for evening, the hair being waved and arranged in coques on the crown of the head, where are a large jeweled comb and an erect feather. The second, quainter and more attractive, is for a very young girl and is a repetition of a bygone style very becoming to childish features.

ACCESSORIES.

Pretty Trifles Which Add Charm and Expense to the Fashionable Toilet.

Large cravats of more or less elaboration are much worn. Plaited, in mousseline de soie, gauze or taffeta or of material like the bodice, they form a very pretty and becoming finish. Cravats of fine old lace are employed for elaborate gowns.

High collars are cut in square or round tabs or are decorated with ruffles, much trimming being placed at the back. Small collars of fine linen, embroidered or hemstitched, are worn with simple costumes of wool and cloth.

Separate fibers of curled ostrich plumage are introduced as an edging for ruffles, cravats and coquilles of gauze and lace. This decoration, which is seen in white, black and colors or in two tones together, is very light, delicate and fragile, and can hardly be looked at without sustaining damage, but it is soft and becoming, therefore desirable when it can be often renewed.

Chemisettes of accordion plaited gauze or silk are worn under boleros of fur or embroidery. The chemisettes are decorated with bands of lace or guipure insertion. Plaistrans of plaid silk are the mode with close bodices of cloth.

Bits of fur may be happily utilized this winter to make a fashionable decoration. They must be cut into conventional form—squares, circles or palm leaves—and applied to the garment to be adorned, being fastened in place by burtonhole stitching around the edge or an outline of cord.

The illustration given today shows a pretty blouse of plaid silk. It forms round plaits in front, fastening in the middle with three gold buttons. A wide collar of white muslin covers the shoulders and is trimmed with embroidery and inset with insertion. The collar and cravat are of plaid silk, while the cuffs match the wide collar. The belt is of velvet.

NEW STYLES.

The Latest Ways of Making and Trimming Gowns and Wraps.

Plaited revers give variety to the bodice and are used singly or in pairs. The ubiquitous blouse needs as much differentiation as original trimmings can give it. Openwork passementerie or embroidery forming a lattice composes charming yokes and blouses for wear over bodices of pale tinted silk or satin. This decoration is usually made and is often enriched by metal effects.

Blouse jackets of cloth, velvet or fur are immensely worn and are the preferred style. Of course those of fur are the most esteemed, but braided cloth composes some very pretty ones, while heavy, rough cloaking is also effectively employed for them.

Hats, when they are of any size, are usually lifted at the left side, inclining slightly toward the right, the hair, when thus displayed, being loosely waved throughout.

Women who amuse themselves by indulging in all the fancies of the wardrobe have a sort of wrap which they wear over the pelmor during the process of hair-dressing. This wrap is large and loose, without sleeves, the armholes being finished with a frill of lace or of the material.

Tails as a border for fur capes are a little out of date, a frill of fur, more or less full, sometimes even fluted, being the newest finish.

The illustration shows a costume of golden brown ribbed velvet, the skirt being decorated around the foot by an arrangement of white and gold galloon. The blouse bodice has a short basque and is trimmed with white satin embroidered with gold, the satin also forming bretelles and the lower of the two sleeve caps, the upper cap being of the velvet. Coquilles of lace descend the front of the bodice. The belt and cuffs are of white satin embroidered with gold. The hat of beige felt is trimmed with chestnut brown plumes.

WOMEN DO NOT TELL THE WHOLE TRUTH.

Modest Women Evade Certain Questions When Asked by a Male Physician, but Write Freely to Mrs. Pinkham.

An eminent physician says that "Women are not truthful, they will lie to their physicians." This statement should be qualified; women do tell the truth, but not the whole truth, to a male physician, but this is only in regard to those painful and troublesome disorders peculiar to their sex.

There can be no more terrible ordeal to a delicate, sensitive, refined woman than to be obliged to answer certain questions when those questions are asked, even by her family physician. This is especially the case with unmarried women. This is the reason why thousands and thousands of women are now corresponding with Mrs. Pinkham. To this good woman they can and do give every symptom, so that she really knows more about the true condition of her patients through her correspondence than the physician who personally questions them. Perfect confidence and candor are at once established between Mrs. Pinkham and her patients.

Years ago women had no such recourse. Nowadays a modest woman asks help of a woman who understands women. If you suffer from any form of trouble peculiar to women, write at once to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and she will advise you free of charge.

And the fact that this great boon which is extended freely to women by Mrs. Pinkham, is appreciated, the thousands of letters which are received by her prove. Many such grateful letters as the following are constantly pouring in:

"I was a sufferer from female weakness for about a year and a half. I have tried doctors and patent medicines, but nothing helped me. I underwent the horrors of local treatment, but received no benefit. My ailment was pronounced ulceration of the womb. I suffered from intense pains in the womb and ovaries, and the backache was dreadful. I had leucorrhoea in its worst form. Finally I grew so weak I had to keep my bed. The pains were so hard as to almost cause spasms. When I could endure the pain no longer I was given morphine. My memory grew short, and I gave up all hope of ever getting well. Thus I dragged along. At last I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. Her answer came promptly. I read carefully her letter, and concluded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking two bottles I felt much better; but after using six bottles I was cured. My friends think my cure almost miraculous. Her noble work is surely a blessing to broken-down women."—GRACE B. STANBURY, Pratt, Kansas.

January Cloak Business

Is good--better than usual in this month, but whether it is because there's more money in circulation or that we are giving better values than ever before, we cannot tell. Certain it is that business in the cloak department reminds us of the busy times during early season. Of course there are many reasons why women are buying cloaks at this time, the most important being that the new and stylish coats which have been priced at $9 to $15 can be bought today at $5.00, and coats which have been up to $7.50 are now down to $2.87. This applies to misses' jackets as well as to ladies' garments, whether jackets or capes.

It is well to have in mind that the line of new, stylish garments which we show at this time is larger and more complete than the average store shows at the beginning of a season. For large women we have plenty of good coats in 40, 42, 44 and 46 bust measures at both the above prices--$2.87 and $5.00.

Gaiter Leggings--For ladies, misses and children in six sizes, made of black jersey cloth, with buttons and straps. Prices 75c to $1.35 according to size. No gaiter on the market to equal them for warmth.

Fleece Lined Hosiery--Have all sizes, in two qualities for ladies--25c and 35c, and at the prices they are excellent value. For children, have a line, sizes 6 to 9 1/2, at 10c and 12 1/2c

All lines of Winter Goods are priced low.

GEN. BARLOW.

AFTER THE TRAITORS.

The big mass meeting in Columbus yesterday showed what the people think of traitors. Five thousand indignant republicans crowded into the great auditorium, half as many more filled the street outside, and emphatic expression was given to the anger and disgust of the republican party of the state.

To understand the significance of yesterday's meeting it is necessary to turn back to the fall campaign. In the state election republicans prevailed. They obtained more than an average plurality for governor and in the legislature a majority of five on joint ballot, allowing all fusion members to the other side. The platform on which the campaign was made and which the people endorsed pledged the legislature to the election of Senator Hanna for both the long and the short term. Not a voice was raised against it during the campaign and every republican legislator was elected on that clearly defined issue. Both Governor Bushnell and Senator Foraker endorsed the proposition at public meetings. On election day the people endorsed it by their ballots. The platform stands, therefore, as their verdict, and is entitled to respect accordingly.

When the people speak at the polls it is time for all concerned in politics to listen. Ten traitors in the Ohio legislature, a handful of plotters in the higher councils of the party, have seen fit to disregard this warning. They have been foiled in their purpose, have suffered discomfiture before the people, but the earnestness of the Columbus mass-meeting gives assurance that their heaviest punishment is yet to come.

They find that a jail big enough for La Fayette county can be built $11,500. This includes an eight-room brick residence for the sheriff and a fire proof jail with twelve cells, and departments for criminals, misdemeanors, juveniles and women, and a jailer's office. Such a jail ought to accommodate the criminal population, if men like Sheriff Acheson are kept at the helm. A good sheriff is a better investment than a big jail, anyway, from the tax-payer's point of view.

In the case of John L. Erdall a faithful official seems likely to be rewarded. Mr. Erdall is frequently mentioned as the best man in the state for attorney general, his work as first assistant during the last three years having been thorough and satisfactory.

There was a net profit of two thousand dollars on the Green county fair last year, and the association closes its forty-fourth year with $13,000 resources and $4,307 liabilities. Somebody must have paid admission to bring about this state of things.

They are starving 440 women and children to death in one camp near Havana, while General Blanco writes autonomy proclamations. Inquiries as to the $100,000 relief fund are heard with the haughty silence of a Spanish grandee.

Rock county farmers are paying their debts and accumulating a little surplus. This goes into the banks, and the country is in better financial condition than it has been in half a dozen years.

The evangelist who has "saved many souls in a week and drawn bigger collections" than Sam Jones is giving Milwaukee a lively religious fillup.

People who don't think much of electing senators by popular vote are moved to take another view by the performance in Ohio.

JUSTICE NEWMAN
HURT BY A FALL

MAY RESULT IN HIS DEATH.

Slipped On An Icy Sidewalk, Striking His Head With Such Force That Blood Rushed to His Nostrils—In a Critical Condition—Some State News.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 11.—Justice A. W. Newman of the supreme court, fell on an icy sidewalk while walking from his residence to the capital, where court opened its session this morning, and was seriously hurt.

His head struck the walk with such force as to cause blood to spurt from his nostrils.
He was carried into a house near by, where he lies in a critical condition. It is feared that his injuries will prove fatal.

Granger Gets Away.

Fond du Lac, Wis., Jan. 11.—[Special]—The report has been received that H. P. McNight, alias Oliver P. Rankin, alias Gideon Granger, who was wanted here on charge of forgery, who was arrested at Buffalo, and who was being taken to Dunkirk, N. Y., to answer to a charge of forgery, jumped from a car window, when the train was a few miles out of Buffalo, and escaped.

Manville Is Insane

La Crosse, Wis., Jan. 11.—[Special]—M. M. Manville, who was found insane on his second trial, has been taken to Mendota. His brother, A. C. Manville, of Milwaukee, has made application for the appointment of J. J. Hogan as administrator and guardian of Mr. Manville.

John Beunig

Beloit, Jan. 11.—[Special]—John Beunig, a well known National Guardsman, whose home was at Whitewater, died this morning of pneumonia after a brief illness. The remains will be taken to Whitewater.

Novak May Talk.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Jan. 11.—The probabilities are that the mystery surrounding the fire at Walford last February, resulting in the destruction of the general merchandise store of Frank A. Novak and the loss of a human life, and which the recent trial of Novak did little to clear up, will all be explained much sooner than has been expected. It is believed also that when all the details are known it will cause a big sensation. Novak has intimated more than once that unless he gained his liberty others would have to share his imprisonment.

Great Strike Nearing Its End.

London, Jan. 11.—There are signs that the end of the great strike in the engineering trades of Great Britain is approaching. Large numbers of Glasgow engineers have applied for reinstatement, while a meeting of the engineers of Fairfield decided to continue work, in spite of their previous threats to leave work when the first 25 per cent of their number were locked out.

Indian Uprising Not Feared.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The Indian office has received no information regarding the burning at the stake of the two Seminole Indians charged with the murder of Mrs. Simmons. A telegram asking for the facts has been sent to Agent Wisdom. Commissioner Jones of the Indian bureau expresses the belief that there will be no general uprising because of the affair. Serious trouble, he says, will be averted.

Mrs. Nock Is Sentenced.

New York, Jan. 11.—Mrs. Augusta Nock, jointly charged with Martin Thorne of the murder of William Guldensuppe, a bath rubber, at Woodside, L. I., in June of last year, was sentenced to fifteen years in the state prison at Auburn. The good time allowance attainable will reduce the term to ten years and five months.

Mrs. Booth in Danger.

New York, Jan. 11.—Mrs. Ballington Booth is pronounced out of all danger at the Presbyterian hospital, though it was said it will be several weeks before she regains anything like her strength.

Facts About the Coliseum.

The largest single structure in the world for audience and spectacular purposes is the Coliseum at Rome. It is in the form of an ellipse; its long diameter is 615 feet, its short 510 feet, the height of the outer wall 164 feet. The arena is 218 feet long by 176 broad. The tiers of seats accommodate one hundred thousand spectators.

The World's Newspaper Output.

The total number of copies of newspapers printed throughout the world in one year is 12,000,000,000. To print these requires 781,240 tons of paper, or 1,562,480,000 pounds, while it would take the fastest press in London 333 years to print a single year's edition, which would produce a stack of papers fifty miles high.

Expenses of Great Britain.

The expenses of Great Britain are so large as to be almost difficult of belief. They are set down at $100,000,000 yearly, or nearly £200 per minute. There is another side of the picture; for every tick of the clock represents an inflow of a little over £3 into the British treasury.

Things Go by Contraries.

In this country of divorces the national bird is the eagle, that chooses its mate for life and never repents its choice.

President McKinley's Pastor.

The Rev. Hugh Johnston, pastor of the Metropolitan Methodist church, Washington, whose sensational sermons President McKinley does not like, must take some other pulpit soon, not because of the president's disapproval, but because his five year term expires in March next. His successor will probably be the Rev. Frank M. Bristol, now pastor of the First Methodist church of Evanston, Ills. The Rev. Mr. Johnston indignantly denies the charge of sensationalism in the pulpit and is quoted as saying that he never preached a sensational sermon in his life.

Head of the Knights of Labor.

Henry A. Hicks of New York city, the new general master workman of the Knights of Labor, is a representative of the conservative faction of that order. He has for years been an exponent of arbitration as a more efficient means of settling the differences between capital and labor than strikes and boycotts. Although a stairbuilder by occupation and a man of limited means, Mr. Hicks has a liberal education and is a deep student of political economy. He has been active in politics, being identified with the Socialist Labor party.

The Founder of Denver.

On a cattle ranch in the town of Menardville, in western Texas, dwells J. O. Russell, the man who first discovered gold in Colorado and who was the innocent cause of the great Pike's peak gold fever of 1858 and 1859. Mr. Russell built the first log cabin on the river Platte on the site of the present city of Denver. He remained in Colorado until 1863 and made a moderate fortune. Then he returned to his old home in Georgia. In 1871 he moved to Texas and settled on a ranch, where he now lives in quiet comfort.

the several daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Anson Phelps Stokes. There are four others. Two of her sisters are married. Sarah, the eldest daughter, became Baroness Halkett in 1890. The other married daughter is now Mrs. John Sherman Hoyt. All the Stokes girls are tall, but Miss Mildred is the tallest of the five. She lacks but two inches of being six feet in height. Although only 18, she has a good figure, and her appearance in evening dress is positively imposing.

SENATOR M.A. HANNA IS NOW ON THE TOP

the vote there are still numerous rumors of bribery for another vote either way. The Hanna men claim to have stenographic notes of an offer of $5,000 by two prominent members of the opposition. The opposition in turn claims S. D. Hollenbeck, a member of the Republican state executive committee, went to Cincinnati last Saturday with $10,000. It is charged that Representative Otis was offered and accepted $10,000. Representative Otis is a Republican who was elected on a fusion ticket in Hamilton county. He voted with the Democrats in the organization, but it is claimed that he made friendly overtures to Hanna workers to entrap them into an offer for the purpose of exposing the same, and that he will do so on the floor of the house.

It is said that Representative Otis will pile $10,000 on his desk and make a sensational speech when his name is called on the senatorial ballot. The Hanna men make a general denial of the Otis charges and say that they anticipate other dramatic performances before the balloting begins.

The mass-Republican convention at the Auditorium in this city Monday afternoon was the largest assemblage ever known in the history of the city. There were repeated scenes of hissing when the names of Gov. Bushnell, Mr. Kurtz and others were mentioned. The terms "traitors," "Judas" and the like were frequently used in responses from the audience. Several of the speakers referred to Senator Foraker in connection with the revolution in the party. The audience was in close and deep sympathy with the intense and bitter utterances of most of the speakers.

The first week one $3.50 shoe looks very much like another. Three months wear, and the difference is more apparent. Three months generally shows whether a shoe was honestly recommended. By that time cheap sole leather has worn through; spongy uppers have been chafed and scraped.

ONE DAY'S BUSINESS
IN CIRCUIT COURTMENZIES-NORCROSS CASE IS DECIDED.

Judge Bennett Rules With the County Court and Hold Mr. Norcross Liable For the Amount Claimed as Due the Estate—Other Cases Heard.

Judge Bennett has affirmed the decision of the county court in the Menzies-Norcross case, and unless the supreme court reverses the decision of the circuit court of Rock county as made this morning, Mr. Norcross will be obliged to pay the estate the sum of $2142.15.

The appeal from the judgment of the county court charging him personally with the sum $142.15 in the matter was disposed of this morning when the court ordered that the appeal be dismissed and the record returned to the county court for the reason that such appeal was taken by Mr. Norcross personally, and not as administrator of the estate and that no appeal bond had been given as is required under the statute.

This will leave the judgment of the county court against Mr. Norcross in force, but he still has the right to appeal to the supreme court. Attorney E. D. McGowan conducted proceedings on the part of the heirs, with James Vincent as trustee, while Smith & Pierce looked after Mr. Norcross' interests.

In the case of Cora E. Roberts vs. David Meddower et al the court ordered that said report be confirmed and that said receiver pay the balance in his hands amounting to $38.38 to the plaintiff as her attorneys to be applied towards the reduction of the judgment herein.

Claude J. Hendrick of this city was this morning admitted to practice in all courts in this state except the supreme court.

Marie Auer was this morning granted a decree of divorce from her husband, Frederick Auer. There was no appearance on the part of the defendant, while in behalf of the plaintiff, Mary Podesta was sworn. The interested parties reside in Green county.

Shepard L. Sheldon, who recently passed the examination, and was admitted to the bar, has been admitted to practice law in all the courts of Wisconsin except the supreme court.

In Judge Sale's court this afternoon the matter was again taken up.

Mrs. Margaret Davidson and Miss Margaret K. Davidson, who were left a good share of the estate by Mr. Crichton's will, and who were recently defeated by the direct heirs.

In Judge Sale's court, have now filed papers for an appeal of the case to the circuit court of Rock county, claiming that they are entitled to the property as provided in the original will.

Other heirs to the property, as the result of the late decision in the county court, now come forward and ask for a new administrator, claiming that they are dissatisfied with the way the business has been conducted. When the case was taken up this afternoon several of the heirs were on hand with their attorneys, W. A. Jackson and B. F. Dunawidde.

The court, after hearing the evidence this afternoon ordered that John S. Anderson, as special administrator, file his accounts and turn over the assets to the general administrator, Fred L. Clemons.

Judge J. W. Sale this afternoon appointed D. W. Watt administrator of the John M. Nelson estate. Mr. Watt was required to give bonds in the sum of $15,000 for the proper discharge of his duties.

A RUB DOWN.

Hard For a Lazy Man But Pays For the Trouble.

One has often read or heard of the great effect of a quick sponge bath and rub down in the morning, but until it has really been put in practice for a fortnight the value is not appreciated.

Moderately cold weather should be applied to arms first and these briskly rubbed with a towel and the open hand until smooth, dry and warm.

Then treat the stomach, back, legs and feet separately, in the same way.

One is inclined to feel a hearty, boyish desire for breakfast and if the healthy life of body thus begun is desirable to maintain, the person could, with profit, avoid coffee at breakfast and use Postum Food Coffee and some whole wheat or oat preparations.

If chemical research is of any sort of value in making clear the food value of various articles it has never done a greater service to mankind than in the analysis of Coffee and Postum.

The first shows no food value whatever, but is shown to contain the same alkaloids as tobacco, opium, whiskey and to have a similar effect upon the human body as this famous trio have; ultimately producing in many cases, heart failure, paralysis, stomach and liver disease and other serious complications arising from a daily poisoning of the nervous system.

True everyone must be allowed the liberty of taking into his or her individual body whatever is desired, but it is a source of satisfaction to the thoughtful man and woman to know just what the real facts are about the article put into the human stomach and upon which one may depend for health.

Coffee may be used by some persons for years and exert no particular power over a strong constitution but if one will carefully investigate the daily life of say, twenty five coffee drinkers, scarcely one will be found entirely free from some physical ache or all directly traceable to a disarranged nervous system.

People who would rather have solid days and nights of health, and easy comfortable bodies to carry around than stick to a cup of coffee each morning, can find a pleasant way by adopting Postum Food Coffee and having it made according to the new directions which makes the way plain to a most delicious, crisp and charming coffee.

heavy in nourishment and entirely free from any sort of narcotic effect like common coffee.

Mr. Curtis, the president of the famous Ladies' Home Journal Co., says he likes Postum better than coffee. Many do, but probably a larger number consider the flavor of Postum second to that of choice coffee. But Postum is delicious and when its powerful nourishing properties are considered in conjunction with the piquant flavor, it takes its place as a fixture on the table of thoughtful people.

KATH IS SET FREE
BY JUDGE PHELPSCASE AGAINST HIM FLATTENS OUT.

Witnesses Are Found Who Would Testify That He Was Not Wholly Responsible For the Row, So District Attorney Jackson Recommended Discharge.

Albert Kash, of this city, is a very unfortunate young man, which fact he no doubt realizes. This morning, in the municipal court, he appeared to answer to a state's prison offence, assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

Fifteen minutes later, however, he was free.

Louis Bugge, the complaining witness, was on hand as were a crowd of friends of both the defendant and plaintiff. District Attorney Jackson addressed the court and after briefly outlining the case asked that the prisoner be discharged. Judge Phelps then discharged the prisoner and Mr. Kash and his friends left the court room in a hurry.

From facts that have of late been discovered, it appears that Mr. Bugge was much to blame for the fracas that took place in Bahr's saloon on New Year's night, as had been supposed.

When Kash struck Bugge on the head with a billiard cue, cutting the scalp, he claimed that he only did it after Bugge had assaulted him. A number of witnesses were then secured who would have sworn to this fact at the trial. In view of these facts, which were secured by the defendant's attorney, W. G. Wheeler, the district attorney ordered the discharge of the prisoner.

Quick Lake Travel.

From the Cleveland Plain Dealer:

"When we put on our new boat next June," said Manager Tow Newman of the Buffalo line, "I think we will have the ideal lake route in really ideal shape. We are going to make a ten-hour run between the two cities, and I don't know where you can equal it. You see, it takes close to twenty minutes to get out of either harbor, and that leaves the actual running time about nine hours and twenty minutes, which means a fraction over twenty miles an hour. I've looked through time tables and schedules pretty thoroughly, and I don't know where you'll find a similar run. They can't do it on the Hudson, I know, and if they equal it anywhere else the books don't show it. Of course, you understand that this isn't racing speed. It's just the regular everyday rate. We could crack it up several miles better, but twenty an hour is fast enough."

A WINDSTORM ON THE CARIBBEAN.

One day upon the white, brown veined sand sped an aerial sprite. Fell news he bore. Scarce had he passed when, lo! upon the shore struck in deep menace many a steel clad hand Of the wave army. Then 'twixt sea and land Rose the stern strife, fierce raging more and more.

Till all the land lay sodden, wet and sore, And the sea soldiers' plumes with fury fanned. Caught in the conflict, hissed the snaky palm, And far, far out among the gleaming host Of billows rolled a ship that prayed for calm! And sunny havens. As a weeping ghost She dripped and shivered till, like a sweet psalm, The sea sang, and she saw the smiling coast.

THE REAL BURGLAR.

BY CHARLES B. LEWIS.

From the time I could read the life and adventures of "Sixteen String Jack" up to a few months ago I had a profound admiration for the highwayman. Next to the highwayman came the burglar. I don't know but he was an equal favorite in my imagination. For years I left doors unlocked and windows open, hoping a burglar would call, but for reasons unknown to me my house was avoided.

A few weeks ago I was left to keep bachelor's hall while the rest of the family paid a visit in the country. One night at midnight, as I peacefully slept in my bed, something happened to arouse me. It took me a minute or two to discover what that something was, but I made no mistake. A man stood over me with a cocked revolver held close to my head, and as he saw that I was awake he growled:

"Now, then, I want to talk to yer. If yer go to raisin any row, yer'll git a bullet plumb through yer head."

"Who are you?" I asked.

"Yer kin call me most any name."

"And what do you want here?"

"I'm after the swag."

"Then you must be a burglar?"

"Fur sure."

So my burglar had come at last. I sat up in bed to get a good look at him, and after one glance I felt sick at heart. The burglar of my imagination had always looked the gentleman. This fellow was a low browed, common looking man who hadn't been shaved for a week even if he had washed his face or combed his hair during that period. He not only looked common, but he looked low minded and tricky. I had always given a burglar credit for wearing good clothes, but this man had on a cheap suit, and it was badly worn in spots. I was disappointed and disgusted, and he saw I was asked:

"Are you sure that you are a burglar?" I queried.

"Of course I am. Haven't I bin arrested five or six times and served two different sentences for burglary?"

"That may be, but I had a different idea of the fraternity. You are not an intelligent looking man. You wear very shabby clothes. You can't speak ten words without making a slip in your grammar. Be candid with me. Aren't you a chap who got in here by mistake? Wasn't it your plan to rob the clothes-line or steal something from the wood shed?"

"What yer givin me, ole man?" he exclaimed as he tapped me on the head with the muzzle of his pistol. "After I gits through with yer yer'll think I'm a burglar fast 'nuff. Git over ag'in the wall! Now, then, if yer move a finger I'll bore yer!"

One side of my bed stood against the wall, and I moved over at his bidding. My clothing hung on a chair at the foot of the bed, and he laid down his pistol and picked up the garments in succession and searched them. From my trousers he took a roll of money amounting to about $40, from my vest a gold watch, from the breast pocket of my coat some papers of no value to him, and after a glance he returned them. On the dresser was my diamond scarfpin, and when he had placed that with the other plunder I said:

"I have always believed that men were driven to burglary through poverty or misfortune or unjust treatment. How was it in your case?"

"I went into the bizness because I wanted sunthin dead easy," he replied, with a solemn wink of his left eye.

"And doesn't a burglar's conscience trouble him now and then?"

"I never heard if it did. If the pur leece lets us alone, our consciences are all right. Where's the rest of the stuff, ole man?"

"Are you asking if I have anything else of value you can carry off?"

"Fur sure! This is no baul. There isn't 'nuff money in this to pay me fur walkin half a mile."

"It will figure up close to $300, and it seems to me that is pretty fair pay for an hour's work."

"Shet up. Now, then, git outer bed."

"What for?"

"I'm goin to tie yer fast while I ransacks the crib. Where's the wife and children?"

"Out in the country."

"That's good. I'll hev the crib all to meself. Put on yer trousers. Now sit down."

He placed the chair against the radiator, and as I sat down he whipped a sheet off the bed, tore it in strips and tied me to both chair and radiator. He was nervous and alarmed all the time, but attempted to hide it by bluster. I finally told him that he ought to be ashamed of such nerve and was rewarded by a cuff on the ear which kept my head ringing for five minutes. When he had secured me to his satisfaction, he looked me over and said:

"I'm goin down into the kitchen for sunthin to eat, and if yer try any tricks on me it'll be the wuss fur yer."

"It is no use to go down," I replied.

"There has been nothing to eat in the house since the folks went away a week ago."

"Then I'll hev to go hungry. Let's see what's in this safe deposit."

He opened all the drawers in the dresser in rotation. There were a few odd pieces of jewelry, half a dozen old coins and the baby's savings bank, containing 119 pennies.

"You wouldn't rob a baby, would you?" I asked as he poured the pennies into the pocket of his sack coat.

"And why not?" he queried with a cunning leer. "It's the bizness of a burglar to take all what comes."

"Well, that's another disappointment. I supposed the burglar to be above robbing infants of their pennies. If I'd had the least idea that any such man as you was around, I'd have taken precautions to keep you out. By the way, how did you enter?"

"By the kitchen door."

"Yes, I left it unlocked in order to save a burglar time and trouble. Where are you going now?"

"I'll take a look about. If yer yell out or try to git away, I'll be right on to yer in a minit!"

He left the bedroom and went down the hall, and I heard him in the guest's chamber and the servant's room. He was gone about ten minutes, and when he came back he was in bad temper. As I wasn't stocked up for burglars he had found no other plunder.

"Look here, cully!" he growled as he stood looking at me. "I hev'n't found no bankbook yit."

"I might look around here myself for six months and not find one," I answered.

"But if yer don't bank yer sugar where is it?"

"Whenever I have a dollar left I give it to the Society of Reformed Burglars."

"Oh, yer does, eh? Well, I want more money. See? Yer got money hid somewhere, and if yer don't shell out I'll cripple yer!"

"You've got every dollar in the house."

With that he pulled up a chair, sat down, took a match from his pocket and lifted one of my bare feet on his knee.

He was going to burn the sole of my foot to make me betray the hiding place of my cash.

"Will yer tell or take this?" he demanded as he scratched the match on the floor.

I was about to answer when I saw the form of a policeman in the door. He had seen lights flickering about up stairs, had entered the yard to find the side door and the kitchen door open. Suspecting that all was not right, he had entered the house and looked about and made his way up stairs. My burglar had his back to the door. As he held the lighted match in his fingers the officer stepped forward and gave him a blow with his club, which knocked him off the chair and seemed for awhile to have finished his career. When the handcuffs had been slipped on his wrists, I was untied, and the officer and I sat down to compare notes and wait for the fellow to regain consciousness. We didn't hasten matters by the use of brandy or water or a palm leaf fan. We gave him all the time he wanted, and meanwhile I went through him and recovered my own. After a long half hour my burglar opened his eyes and sat up and inquired:

"What's goin on here?"

"Nothing much," I answered. "You were not satisfied with taking all I had, but were going to torture me in hopes of getting another shilling or two. This officer came in just then and cracked your head."

"And I'm a prisoner?"

"You are."

"Say, gents, I'm a poor, unfortunate man and was driven to this, and I hope yer'll take pity on me," he whined, having no more pluck than a child.

"I thought burglars were brave, determined men," I said.

"No, sir, they are not. If yer'll let me go, I'll leave this part of the country and never come back. Gents, think of me dear old mother."

"What! Do burglars have dear old mothers to weep and worry when arrest and prison come?"

"Yes, sir, and my wife will be so upset that she won't be able to go to her washin."

"Then you are the husband of a wash-woman?"

"It's true, sir. See, gents—I'm weepin. I'm as sorry as I kin be, and if yer'll let me go I'll never even steal an apple as long as I live. Try me, gents—try a broken hearted, sorrowful man, who must have been walkin in his sleep, or he'd never hev got in here."

And that was my ideal, my hero, my burglar. He had come after a score of years of waiting, and I had found him ignorant, vicious and only a step above the brutes. I went away and sat down by the hall window and gave way to my grief and disappointment, while the officer lifted the mudsill to his feet and walked him down stairs and escorted him to the station. I hoped the man might nerve up and become a hero as he faced the judge and jury; but, alas, he pleaded guilty, shed tears when sentenced, and as they took him away he turned back to me and whispered:

"Yes, sir, I'm a burglar, and I axes yer humble parding fur disturbin yer sleep that night."

Automatic Photography.

An automatic photograph of a deer taken at midnight is one of the marvels of photography. This was secured by means of an automatic arrangement devised by Charles Hughes of Red Bluff, Cal. By a mechanical device the deer, in touching a linen thread while moving along a trail at midnight, put in action the movement which opened the camera, flashed the magnesium powder and then closed the shutter.

Activity Accounted For.

"I have been reading," said Mrs. Darley, "Lord Kelvin's astounding statement that there are 1,000,000,000 molecules in a cubic inch of gas and that in each of these molecules there are several atoms moving among themselves at the rate of 70 miles a minute."

"Gracious!" replied Mr. Darley. "Is it any wonder that the gas meter is endowed with perpetual motion?"—Detroit Free Press.

wait the final resurrection. Not dead but gone before. A large audience filled Footville hall on Friday evening, the occasion of the first concert in the People's Lecture Course. Taken as a whole the program was exceptionally enjoyable. The numbers given by the participants from abroad as well as those presented by home talent were enthusiastically received. Special mention deserves to be made of the instrumental rendition of the three representatives from the School for the Blind and the vocal solos of little Olive Cody of Burnett Junction. This little girl is but five years old but sings with wonderful clearness and self-possession. The next entertainment in the course is announced as a stereopticon lecture to be given in the M. E. church on Friday Jan. 21, by Rev. J. B. Noyes of Shopters. An audience that filled the Christian church on Sunday evening, listened to an interesting literary and musical program presented by the O. W. M. B. of that church. Mrs. E. Campbell, Mrs. H. Pennick and Miss Lottie Dean were among those who took part. The families of John Ogden and Warren Hastings left on Monday for their new homes in Tennessee. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Ross on Sunday last.

THE NEWS OF MILTON JUNCTION

Funeral of Mrs. Minerva Greene Millard—Some Other Events.

Milton Junction, Jan. 10—The remains of Mrs. Minerva Greene Millard, who died in the Presbyterian hospital at Chicago, were brought to this place Wednesday night. The funeral was held from the Seventh-Day Baptist church Thursday, at 1 p. m., Rev. Platts of Milton, officiating. The burial was at Rock River, beside her mother and other relatives. Mrs. James Brown of this place, has been quite ill for several days. Mrs. B. Keith is seriously sick with heart trouble. George Coon goes this week, to southern Illinois, for two weeks. Undertaker Coon was kept busy with his Walworth business the past two weeks, having had four funerals, two at Walworth and two at Fontana. Mr. Douglass of Fontana, who was buried Sunday, was one of the most prominent men in Walworth county. Mr. Coon said it was the largest funeral he had ever had their being between four and five hundred people present. The funeral was held at the S. D. B. church at Walworth. The Seeger boys have rented Stewart Chambers building on Merchant's Row now occupied by Burhan's pool room to use as a tailor shop and men's furnishing goods. May success attend them. They open Feb. 1. Mrs. Will Van Lone has sold her millinery stock to Miss Laura Kunez, of Port Atkinson, who has been doing millinery work for Mrs. Van Lone the past year. Miss Kunez is an accomplished milliner and has worked as trimmer in some of the largest millinery houses in Chicago and Milwaukee. We think she will make a success of the business here. It is understood that John Ophers has gone into business with Dr. Ticknor in the dental work. Dr. Ticknor and Mr. Ophers have worked together before. The Kings Daughters met with Mrs. Will Livingston Monday afternoon. School opened Monday with a full attendance. Some of the little ladies of this town attended a birthday party at Miss Beluah Greenman's Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Henderson was thrown from her cutter and dragged her several rods last Friday cutting her face and bruising her quite badly. She was near the wheel and the horse ran to Shaw's and turned into the yard there. She was brought home and a physician called who sewed up the cut and she is now quite comfortable.

A PLAGUE OF THE NIGHT

ITCHING PILES AND OTHER RECTAL TROUBLES EASILY CURED BY A NEW AND SAFE METHOD.

A Remarkable Number of Cures Made By The Pyramid Pile Cure.

About one person in every four suffers from some form of rectal disease. The most common and annoying is itching piles, indicated by warbling, slight moisture and intense uncontrollable itching in the parts affected.

The usual treatment has been some simple ointment of salve which sometimes give temporary relief, but nothing like a permanent cure can be expected from such superficial treatment.

The only permanent cure for itching piles yet discovered is the Pyramid Pile Cure, not only for itching piles, but for every other form of piles, blind, bleeding or protruding. The first application gives instant relief, and the continued use for a short time causes a permanent removal of the tumors or the small parasites which cause the intense itching and discomfort of itching piles.

Many physicians for a long time supposed that the remarkable relief afforded by the "Pyramid Pile Cure" was because it was supposed to contain cocaine, opium or similar drugs, but such is not the case. A recent careful analysis of the remedy showed it to be absolutely free from any cocaine, opium, or in fact any poisonous, injurious drugs whatever.

For this reason the Pyramid Pile Cure is probably the only pile cure extensively recommended by physicians, because it is so safe, so prompt, in the relief afforded and so far as known the only positive cure for piles except a surgical operation.

In one year the Pyramid Pile Co. has become the best known, the safest and the most extensively sold of any pile cure before the public.

Nearly all druggists now sell it at 50 cents and $1 per package.

Address the Pyramid Co., Marshall, Mich., for book on cause of piles and also hundreds of testimonials from all parts of the United States.

If suffering from any form of piles ask your druggist for a package of Pyramid Pile Cure and try it tonight.

Captain Marryat.

In his Seventy Years' Reminiscences Mr. Vizetelly gives the following description of Captain Marryat: Captain Marryat was tall, but broad-shouldered and thick set. There was nothing of the jovial "salt" about him; none of that flow of animal spirits which his writings might have led one to expect, nor ought that could be termed genial even. On the contrary, his manners were grave, and he had rather a peremptory way of speaking, which his friends, though never in his hearing, for that would have been dangerous, were in the habit of terming his "quarter-deck" style. Marryat's autocratic proceedings at the time he owned the Metropolitan Magazine led to its former editor, Campbell the poet, suggesting that he evidently had plenty of the family's old planter's blood in his veins, and that he would dearly like to flog his contributors for their shortcomings.

St. Petersburg's Wonderful Clock.

The most wonderful clock in the world is exhibited in St. Petersburg. Its magnificence may be imagined from the fact of this colossal time-piece having no fewer than ninety-five faces. It indicates simultaneously the time of day at thirty different spots on the earth's surface, besides the movement of the earth around the sun, the phases of the moon, the signs of the zodiac, the passage over the meridian of more than fifty stars of the northern hemisphere, and the date according to the Gregorian, Greek, Muslim and Hebrew calendars. The works took two years to put together after the clock had been sent in detached pieces from Switzerland to Russia.

Alaska's Great Forests.

The gold of Alaska, on which the attention of mankind is just now fixed with brilliant anticipation, may not, in the end, turn out to be the greatest treasure which that land possesses. The Alaskan forests appear to be among the most valuable in existence. Extending from Cross sound, a little south of Mount Fairweather, to the Strait of Juan de Fuca, partly in Alaska and partly in British Columbia, lies what Garden and Forest describes as the greatest continuous body of timber of the cone-bearing or pine family in the world, "almost unmarked as yet by the axe, safe from fire, and of easy access." Security from fire, due to the moist climate, is regarded as one of the chief causes of the continued existence of these magnificent forests.

What Is It, Anyway?

Some of the mothers of Topeka, Kan., have denounced the style of round dancing known as the "college lead." Mayor Fellows joins in the objection to the extent of declaring that if he had a daughter in society and a man should dance the "college lead" with her he would break his neck.

She's bound to have Pearline, this lady. The grocer has just sent her one of the many substitutes, instead. You can't see the boy, but he's on his way back to exchange it. If all women were only as careful and determined, there would be less grumbling, and Pearlina sales would be multiplied.

Probably no woman who uses Pearlina would take anything else, knowingly. But since Pearlina has become a household word, the ignorant and the careless suffer. The ignorant think that "Pearline" means any washing-powder; the careless fail to notice that they're getting an inferior article, instead of Pearlina.

A BUSINESS BOY.

Now a Chicago Lad Established and Carries on a Bread Route.

Robert Stuart is a Hyde Park boy. Last summer he very much wanted to earn some money of his own. He thought of all the schemes that he ever had heard of, and then he started an entirely new one. He went to Mr. O'Marrow, who had just opened a bakery in Fifty-fifth street, and said that if he was supplied with a horse and wagon he thought he could get up a profitable route of customers. Mr. O'Marrow was a little doubtful of Robert's ability, but he said that he would give Robert a commission on all the customers he could get. So Robert started out and made a thorough canvass of the neighborhood, and he soon found nearly 30 families that agreed to take Mr. O'Marrow's goods if they were delivered promptly. Robert got up every morning at 5 o'clock and, mounted on his wheel, he would take a big basket of bread and buns and deliver them to his customers. The basket was firmly fastened to the handle bar of his machine. He was so prompt and pleasant that his customers increased to 50, and then he could not carry all of the bread in a basket. So he bought a little iron wagon and fitted a large basket inside of it. This he tied behind his wheel. Almost any morning those who get up early enough may see him spinning along the streets of Hyde Park with the bread wagon rattling along behind him. In this way Robert, although he is only 13 years old, has worked up a good business. He is making money, and Mr. O'Marrow never would think of parting with his services.
